Politics in Utah will soon be on in full force. Those who play the game through the whole open season, and burnish up their weapons during the closed months, have already been out on practise marches and engaged in on practise marches and engaged in target shooting.

The pre-season activity is more marked this year than ever before, and when the open work commences, it is probable that there will be no let-up through the summer at all, although ordinarily the opening should be a fall one.

The numbers sung by the choir were "We thank Thee O God for a prophe" and "Come let us anew our journey pursue," two favorite hymns of the deceased. A short time before he The circumstances which combine

The circumstances which combine to start things early in the spring are the fact that the Democratic state committee will have to come into session to choose a successor to Henry Peery, national committeeman for Utah, before the actual work of preparing for the Denver convention is far under way.

IN THE STATE.

As soon as the people of Utah turn from the national conventions, and the keynotes of the big campaigns are struck, there will be jobs for local statesmen and near-statesmen. the work, and he will have two assistants in the office.

A secretary is also to be employed, but without a salary. He is George W. Fassail, and he will do the correspondence formerly carried on by Mr. Jensen in his combined position of secretary and manager.

The new bureau will keep a rating book for all people in Salt Lake who run "charge" accounts at butcher and grocer stores. It will not only keep their names, but a private report and estimate on their ability to meet their hills. Besides this work, when a bill becomes delinquent the dealer may report it to the association, and he will have it collected for him by the expert bureau chief.

HE TELLS HIS EXPERIENCE.

One Eastern Plant Proved a Fallure While a Second Experiment Was Entirely a Success.

What is the best way to attack the problem of making Salt Lake a less smoky city?

Mayor John S. Bransford declares that this is the most serious problem confronting the people at this moment, and he believes that the only ment, and he believes that the only way to effect a betterment of conditions will be for a public sentiment to grow in favor of such betterment, together with a thorough investigation of all known methods of controlling smoke.

The complaints from residents on the bench lands that it seems like going down into a smoking crater to come down into the city in the morning have been growing more numerous during the past few weeks. An interview with a Salt Lake lawyer wnodeclared that Salt Lake was a smokler town than New York, recently attracted general notice to the smoke tracted general notice to the smoke tracted general notice to the smoke problem.

"I can tell you the result of my own experience," declared Mayor Bransford this morning in urging that people individually take up the matter, without the necessity of resorting to the alternative of warrants, fines, and imprisonments, "and perhaps that will suggest a possibility for others."

MAYOR'S EXPERIENCE. "When the Bransford apartments were nearing completion we began to consider the matter of smoke, and 1 made a trip all over the country, investigating consumers. We took up a correspondence with various firms handling them, and finally we received almost unanimous, endorsement handling them, and finally we received almost unanimous endorsament from leading engineers and experts, in favor of the Wilkinson stoker. We bought one, and it cost quite a considerable sum, and after it was established, we found it didn't do hardly a bit of good. While it might have been, and undoubtedly was, a great success down east, with their coals and their atmosphere pressure, still in this attitude and with our coal it wouldn't work.

"We'n it came to a question of what to do lext, we were pretty puzzled and our old chimney, I can tell you, sent out a mighty black cloud of smoke. Then a city official spoke to me about it, and I told him if he would tell me what to do I would guarantee to spend $10,000 trying to do it.

"I'm to the end of my rope," I explained to him, "and if the city knows any way to move, it's more than I do." vouldn't work.

PROBLEM SOLVED.

"Well, after things had run along "Well, after things had run along that way for a while, we tore out the expensive Wilkinson stoker, and put in the American stoker. Now you can look at the chimney any time, and you won't find it smoking much heavier than a good sized house stove. I know that a stoking device is impracticable for small buildings with low pressure boilers. Where it works is in the high pressure boilers, and I think every building with such a boiler should put one of these devices under it. "There are already a number of relative to the requirements of teachers for the Islands, the following outline of examination has been received:

A thesis of 500 words on one of two subjects; correction of a rough draft manuscript of 250 words; mathematics, including arithmetic, algebra and plane geometry; history and civil government of the United States; general history and geography; cononial growth and general government of the United States; political economy; educatio il experience and an optional question on agriculture, mechanical engineering or education.

Announcement was made a short time ago that the American possessions in the far away Pacific were in nood of 500 additional pedagogues, and it was for the purpose of galning information for the benefit of numerous inquirers that President Kingsbury placed himself in communication with the proper Island authorities. The situation as to chimneys is that a city ordinance provides for smoke fice is now planning a campaign of ar-rests and fines for owners of some of the more smoky chimneys.
